DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's arguments, see Applicant Summary of Interview, filed 01/07/2009, with respect to the Requirement for Restriction/Election, filed 12/29/2008, have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the Election/Restriction has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground of Election/Restriction is made in view of further detailed examination of the claimed invention that was not discovered during interview.

2. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

I. Species of the embodiment disclosed on page 6, lines 1-7 of the Specification in the First Embodiment, the system control unit sends the communication management information in the text format to the email address by email when specified conditions are satisfied. Here, the specified conditions are satisfied when a number of facsimile transmissions to a specified address exceeds a predetermined number.

II. Species of the embodiment disclosed on page 6, lines 7-10 of the Specification in the Second Embodiment, the specified conditions are satisfied when a number of facsimile transmissions during specified hours exceeds a predetermined number.

III. Species of the embodiment disclosed on page 6, lines 10-13 of the Specification in the Third Embodiment, the specified conditions may be satisfied when a number of facsimile transmissions longer than a specified communication time exceeds a predetermined number.

3. The species are independent or distinct because claims to the different species recite the mutually exclusive characteristics of such species. In addition, these species are not obvious variants of each other based on the current record.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claims are generic.

The species require a different field of search (e.g., searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries); and/or the prior art applicable to one species would not likely be applicable to another species; and/or the species are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112 first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

The election of the species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the election of species requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected species.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
